1. Prayer

Sandra Ritcher opened us up in prayer.

2. Minutes of March 27, 2024.

Minutes were approved unanimously.

3. Meeting with academic departments: Philosophy, RS, and Art

- a. The Philosophy department meeting with the Provost and program review team was productive; the department is aware of the challenges they face because of current resignation and forthcoming retirements.
- b. The Religious Studies department meeting was productive. The RS faculty will be looking at the caps in their Common Context classes. They may also respond to the program review team's report because they are concerned with the recommendation 9.
- c. The Art department meeting went well and was very positive, with many creative solutions. The Art department is concerned with the current number of their graduating majors. They are exploring the possibilities to collaborate with other departments to boost enrollment in their major and minor programs.

4. Preparation for the April 19 faculty meeting

- a. Religious studies and Philosophy will be awarded for best six/seven-year report. Chemistry and Education will be awarded for best annual report. Steve Rogers will present all for awards at the April 19 faculty meeting

5. Modified version of the Alumni Survey

- a. PRC looked of the Alumni Survey agreeing on which questions should be mandatory or optional.

6. Other Business

No other business was mentioned.
